DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:
  - I. Claims 1-24, 27, 31 and 34 relate to one aspect of the present invention, as described in the specification of the instant application (page 4 lines 1-15), involving method for automated processing of a search list provided by a remote user, and retrieving and delivering information corresponding to at least one item contained in said search list, (class 707, subclass 10).
  - II. Claims 25-26 and 32-33 relate to one aspect of the present invention, as described in the specification of the instant application (page 5 lines 3-9), involving method for converting a document from one extensible markup language (XML) format to another XML format, (class 707, subclass 101).
  - III. Claims 28-30 and 35-37 relate to one aspect of the present invention, as described in the specification of the instant application (page 5 lines 21-23, page 6 lines 1-10), involving method for automatically suspending electronic delivery of information to electronic mail destinations having invalid electronic mail addresses, (class 709, subclass 206).

Art Unit: 2165

2. Inventions I, II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination I has separate utility such as retrieving data from a database, invention II has a separate utility such as processing a document having an extensible markup language and invention III has a separate utility such as electronic mail messaging. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement is traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
